PANTHER ADVENTURES

The big ebony cat strikes again as the school bell rings the first day of classes, calling us back into a daily routine of lectures, notes, homework, speeches and throwing erasers at our enemies just before the teacher walks through the door.

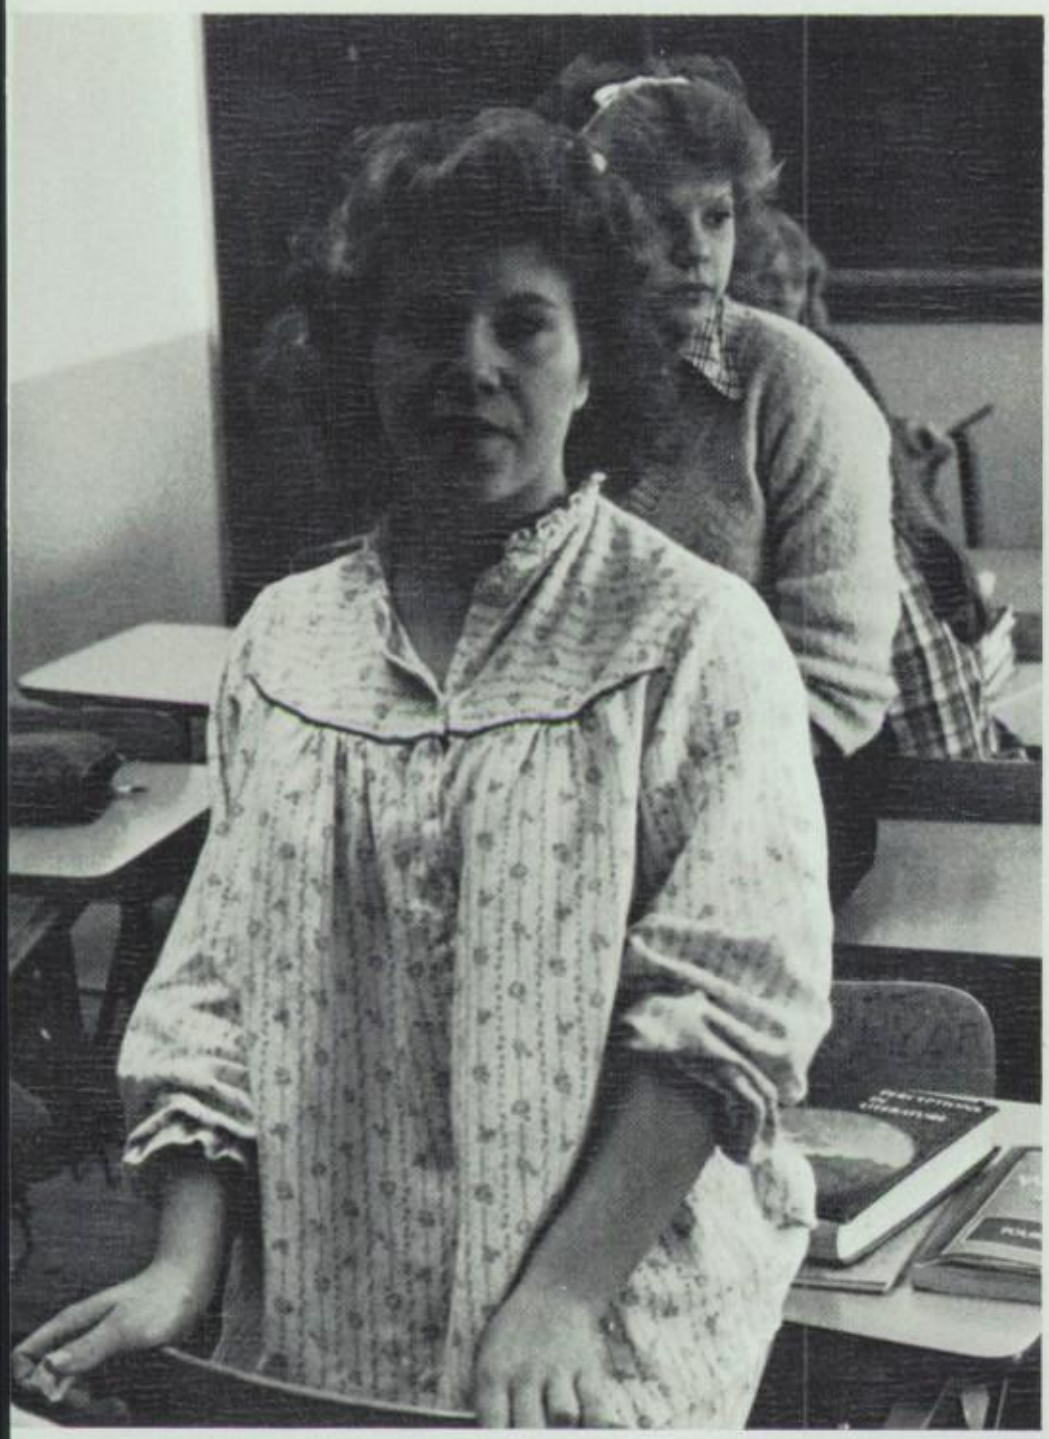
We follow our black mascot's tracks through the entire school year, to the games, the Prom, the purple revenge, the car washes, band rehearsals, etc. We hope to travel successfully through our romantic flings, and we hope that no one on the yearbook staff has the nerve to print any revealing picture of us in an uncompromising situation we had no business to be in, in the first place. Most of all we hope no one was taking aerial shots of Rockford the day some unknown daring student ran in circles on the superintendent's roof!

Mr. Sherrick plays Cowboys and Indians.

Elementary students line up for field day.

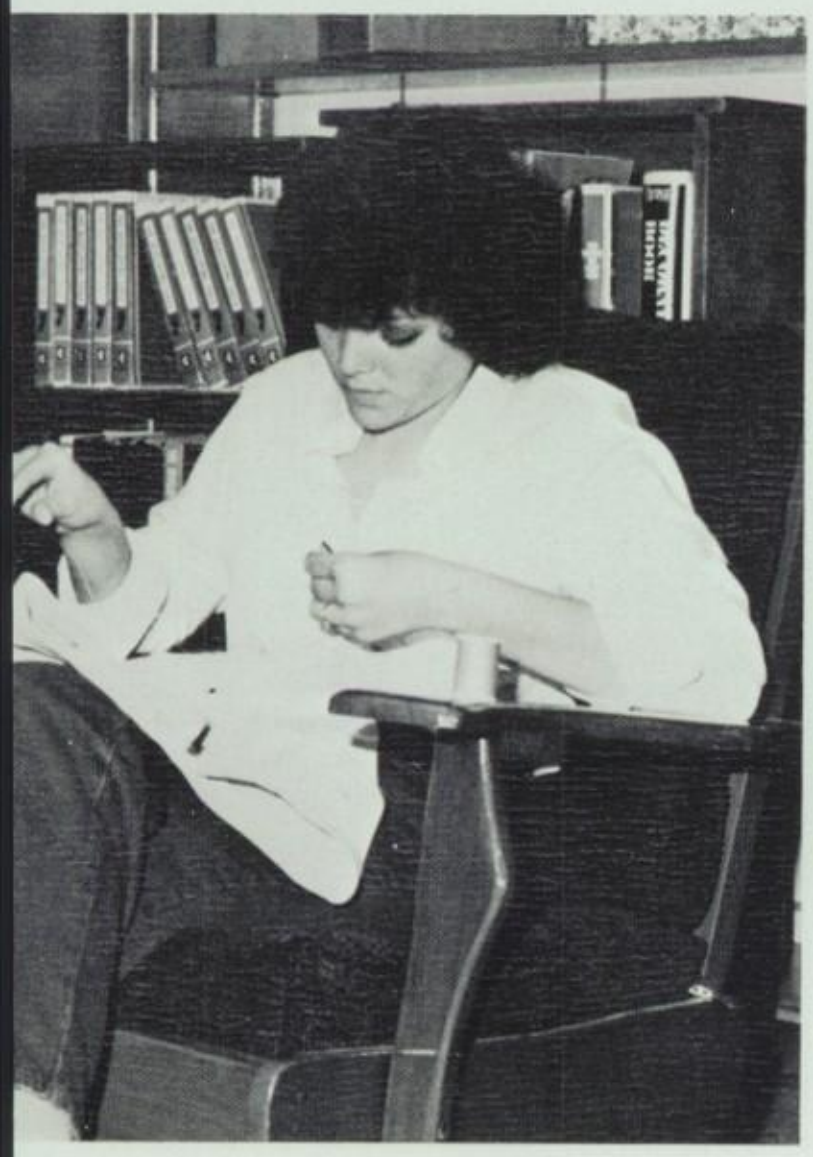
Mrs. Boeckman enjoys her lunch.

Mitzi Hileman and Penny Patton try to get that 3-D effect to help them with math class.



Stacy Schlickman participates in pajama day.

Carla Pierstorff studies in Mr. Frese's office.



Beth Stephenson and Claudia Hileman show their friendship.

Jill Bollenbacher and Amy Dietrich catch up on their sewing project.

PEOPLE

Craig Whitaker and Brian Zizelman decorating the English room door.

Miss Foust giving lessons on the latest dances.

Mrs. Clouse takes to her guns to get the students to learn.

Elementary students participating in Halloween dress-up day.

Kelly catches up on the latest fashions.

Elina Syvähuoko
Kaivosrinteentic 2.6
01610 Vantaa 61 Finland

Elina came to Parkway from Finland. Her father is a math teacher; and her mother is a nurse. She has three sisters, age 2, 10, 14.

Her favorite sports are jogging and swimming. Favorite foods are pizza and seafood. Favorite classes at Parkway are art and German II. Elina's hobbies are playing the piano and helping with Girl Scouts.

The biggest difference for Elina between life in Finland and in the U.S. is that people here are more outgoing, and school is easier. Her most exciting experience was coming to America.

Elina's favorite TV programs are: Fame, Facts of Life, Chips, and Three's Company. Her favorite song is "You Can't Hurry Love" by Phil Collins.

Her future goals are to finish high school and go to the University of Finland.

Elina has visited Sweden, West Germany, and England, besides America.

We wish her much success and happiness as she returns to her own country.

STUDENT LIFE

Brother and sister team of Don and Lori Trisel.

Lannette Lampy and Tina Baumgartner enjoy a nice fall day before classes start for the day.

Typical of the halls of PHS is the sight of students changing classes.

Mike Kimmel, Brian Dicke, and Barbara Allen check to see who is absent for the day.

HOMECOMING WITH A TWIST

The warm fall evening was filled with excitement as the Football Homecoming got underway. The festivities started with the annual parade around town led by the Parkway Marching Band. The excitement rose as Miss Joni Ransbottom was announced the 1982 Homecoming Queen. The next evening the dance was held, D.J.'d by the 95 Q-ZOO.

Parkway added a new twist to homecoming this year with the first Winter Homecoming since 1961. Mrs. Nancy (Baker) Bates, the 1961 Queen came to do the honors as Miss Brenda Strawn was crowned 1983 Basketball Queen. The Panther Varsity team didn't let the court down, whomping New Bremen 48-47 for a royal victory.

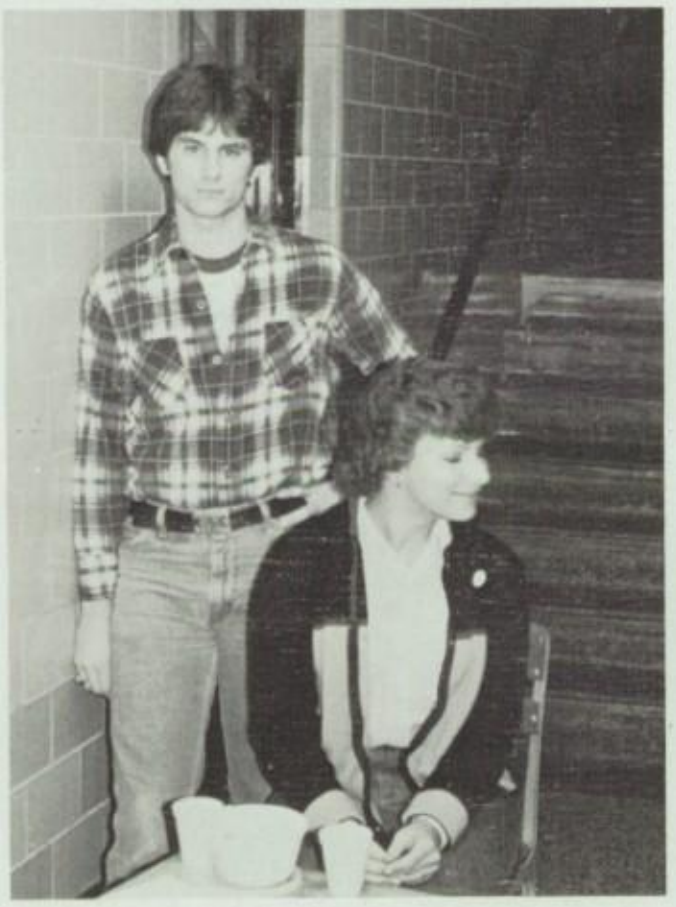
Annette Smith checks her wedding ring for proper fit.



Eric Beerbower and Jocelyn Foster officiate at the marriage center.

The band Justus provided high energy rock music.

"With This Ring"

Getting married? How about a mock ceremony just to see what it is like for one evening? You missed your chance if you failed to attend the Sadie Hawkins Dance sponsored by the Pep Club.

To the beat of Justus, a contemporary rock band, many events occurred, such as receiving a sticker for each kiss you received at the kissing booth, catching the bridal bouquet after your best friend got married, writing messages to your friends on wall hangings, or just sitting on the straw and talking about the most important events in your life.

Adam Swander enjoys his job at the kissing booth.

Bobbi Hunziker hugs her date while everyone prepares for the next dance.

Clash of the Season

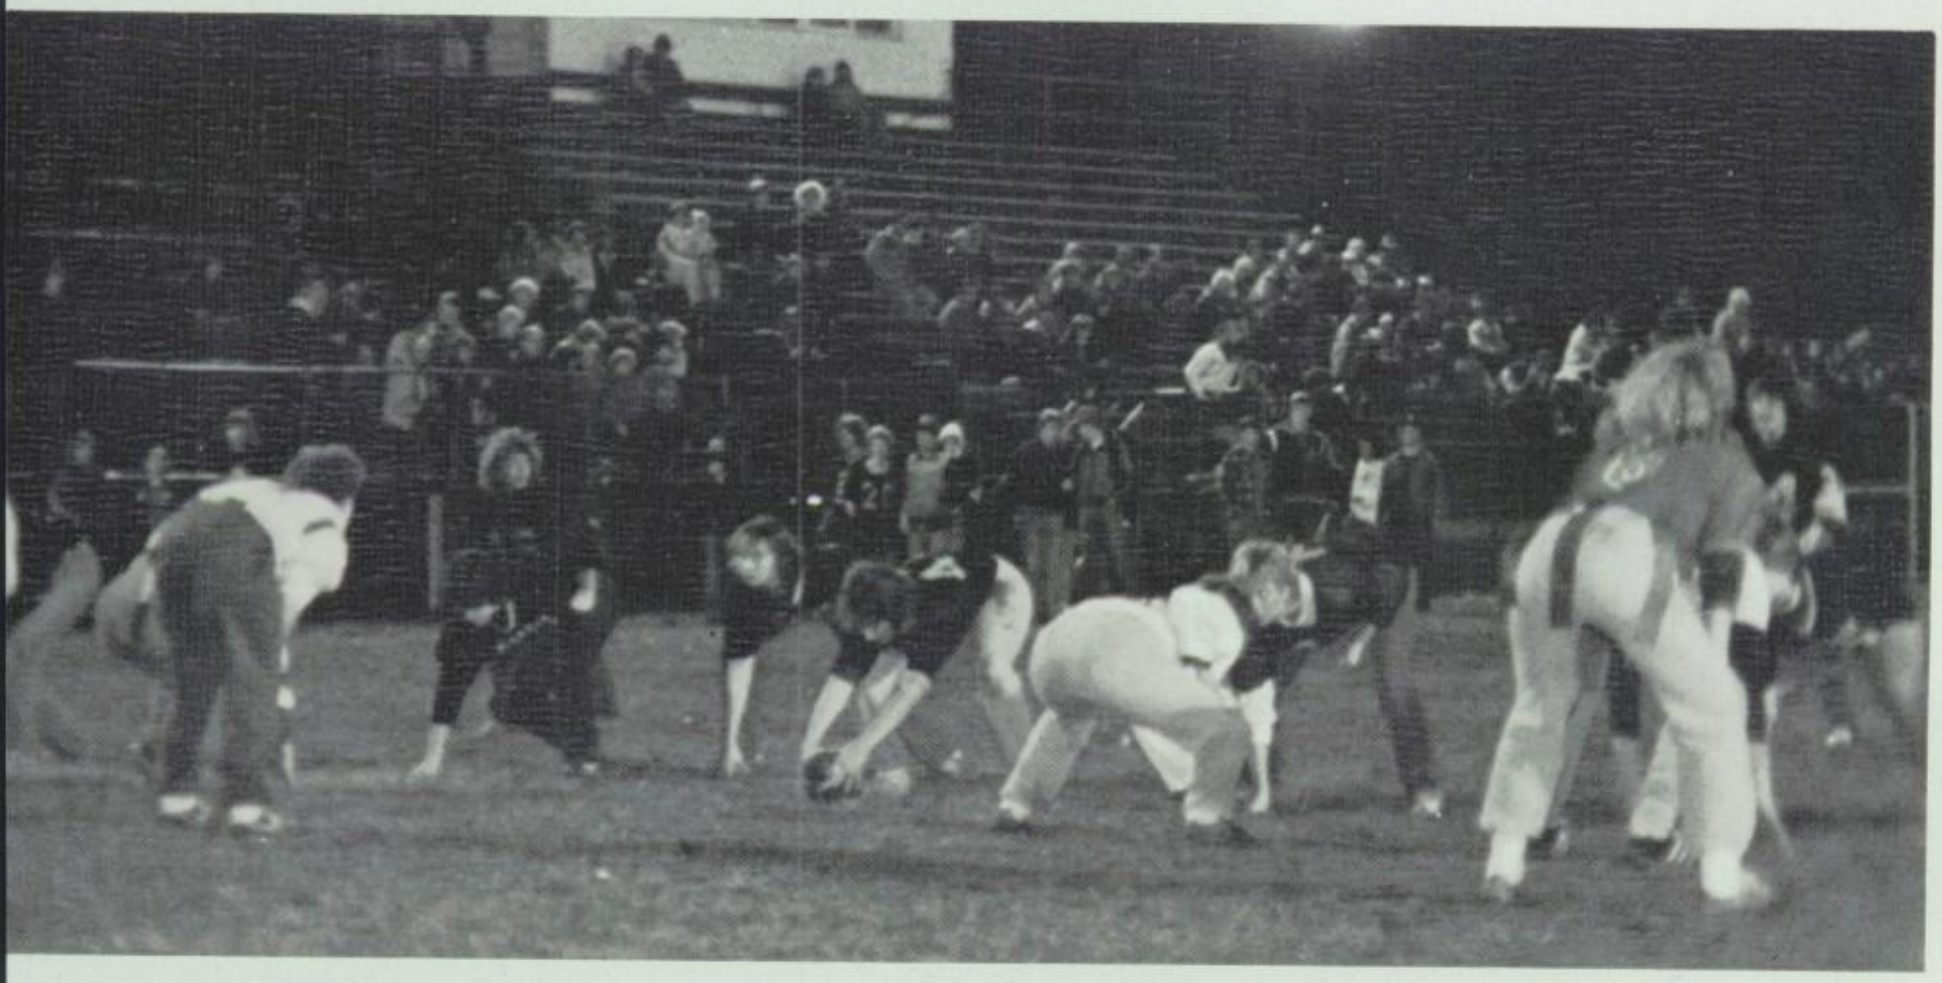
The class of '83 came out on top in this year's Powder Puff game. Both teams fought long and hard in the cold rain, but the Seniors edged out the Juniors by a score of 14-0.

So the 1983 Pantherettes won again, and the 1984 Seniors have their work cut out for them next year.

Seniors plan their strategy.

The wet Powder Puffs dry out.

Ready, set, tackle!



Cheerleaders Dwayne, Doug, and Roger show their spirit.

Coach Jack seems to be ready, willing, . . . and amused.

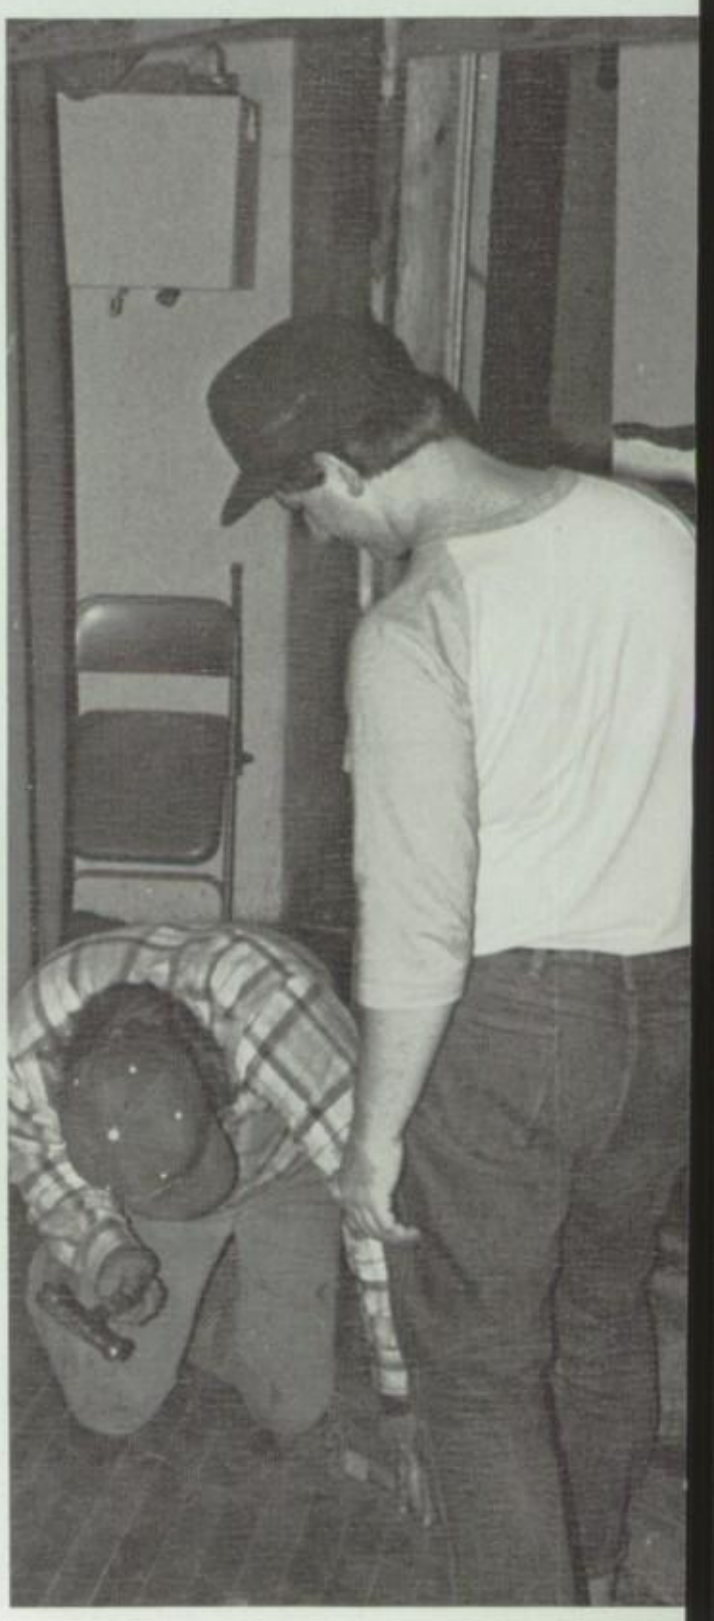
Lights . . . Camera . . . Action! Action! Action!

The Senior Class of 1983 performed three mini-plays instead of one big one. Having three plays made it harder on the advisor and the stage crew, but it was well worth it. Each play had a different style, which made it more enjoyable to watch. The plays' titles were "Stuffings," "Sorry, Wrong Number," and "The Bride Comes to Yellow Sky." All the participants are commended on a fine performance.

Tal Bates and Mark Yoder work hard when there's work to do.

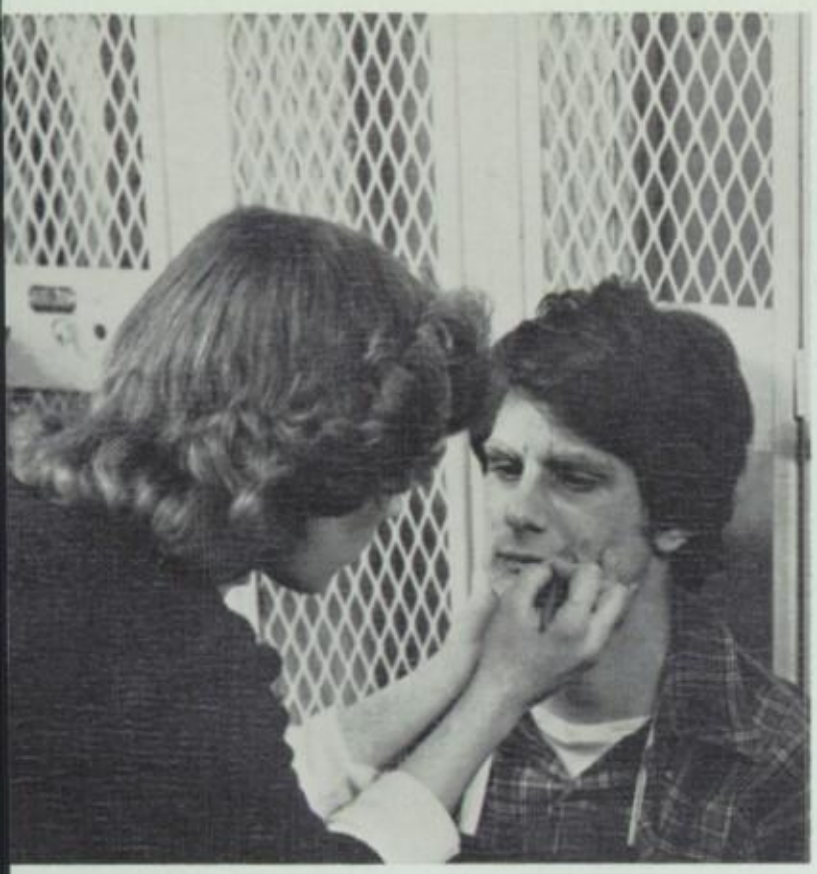
Helping raise one of the walls for the plays, Shane Barna gives it his all.

A crew member makes sure the wall is going to stay up.



Ralph Thieman works on one of the props for a play.

Ralph Thieman and Mike Hawk put the finishing touches on the ticket booth.



Eric Beerbower slowly changes to an old man by the help of make-up.

Everyone may look calm, but he's not.

Eric Beerbower and Sandra Sites go through rehearsal with no problems.

Roger Luginbill relaxes a bit while the make-up is put on his face.

Eric Beerbower confronts Sandra Sites after the fight with her boyfriend.

Roger Luginbill and Sandra Sites act out the argument scene with the right touch.

Brenda Strawn correcting nature's mistakes.

Tracy works carefully to apply Julie's make-up just right.

Teresa Kuhn applies the make-up to make Randy appear scarey.

The phone call.

The Sergeant gets his lunch.

At rehearsal Randy practices the murder scene.

ABOARD THE LOVE BOAT

Boarding the Love Boat was the highlight of most Parkway juniors and seniors on that long awaited Prom Night. The months of hard work and preparation paid off as the formals and tuxedoes appeared.

The night was made complete by everything from cabin "Do Not Disturb" signs to a rock band, Aire Craft.

After the last passengers departed, a special after-prom at Huffy Union Hall was made to complete the evening. Prizes, dice boards, and dancing to the sounds of Artesia were enjoyed by many.

Memories of this speical night will linger for a long time.

Stylish Pins Show Friendship!

The Art Club had many new members this year as it started its second year in existence. Drawing and creating were part of what the club achieved.

For a fund raiser this year they made friendship pins. Many students showed their friendship by giving them to friends. Members of the club also made many different art objects to sell.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, under the leadership of Tom Burtch, enjoyed a banner year, in both attendance figures and spiritual growth. The group discussed a wide variety of topics at their weekly meetings, including the effects of rock music and the many ideals, by which Christians try to live. The attitudes of the members give every indication that FCA will thrive for many years.

Ski Trip

Fun times were had by the members of Campus Life with the ski trip, a Red's baseball game, the dating game, and even a basketball team. As always the serious talks, the values, and information passed on by our new leader, Doug Beutler, were the reason the club was so successful.

SUPERIOR SUCCESS

Superiority definitely describes the Panther band this year; both marching and concert bands proved their quality.

The marching band accented by a fine flag corps competed for the first time at the Ohio State Fair and received a Superior rating. This got the band off to a super marching season with everything from love ballads to spaceships.

After marching season, the work didn't let up because the band had to start preparing for District and State Contests. A Superior rating at District sent them on to Bowling Green for an outstanding performance, giving the band blue medals for two years in a row; a long awaited first for Mr. Sherrick.

FTA Supports Scholarships

Students who may be interested in entering the teaching field join "Future Teachers of America." They have many projects to raise money to support themselves and to donate money toward scholarships. Nineteen Inducted Into The NHS

The National Honor Society inducted nineteen students into the organization at their annual ceremony in March, bringing the total membership to forty-six. Hallways and Lockers Pepped Up

Providing spirited signs and banners to decorate PHS hallways during football and basketball season is due to the efforts of the pep club. The school athletes are given a scrapbook to remind them of their activities provided by the club. Both girls' and boys' locker rooms were decorated for games along with individual student lockers.

The pep club helped with the homecoming events by ordering the flowers for the court. Another big event was the Sadie Hawkins Dance, where the girls got a chance to ask the guy to escort them.

Ideal Lady at PHS?

The Service Over Self Club has been especially busy making door decorations for Shane Hill Nursing Home residents in February; baking dishes for the progressive Christmas dinner in December, and writing personal appreciation letters to teachers who have been especially helpful to them.

Perhaps the most anticipated event is the Spring Ideal Lady tea, where each member reveals her identity to the ideal lady she chose in the fall. The ideal lady receives small remembrances throughout the year to show how much she is appreciated by her secret SOS pal.

Besides organizing the football homecoming, the Student Council started a new tradition, basketball homecoming. Impossible?

As the title states, doing the yearbook certainly seems like an unobtainable goal. While the school year progresses, it seems as if the majority of staff members lose the ambition to get the job done. Everyone wants a nice yearbook, but usually the people with all the great ideas on how everything should be done are the ones hardest to find when it comes to getting the work finished. Thanks to those staff members who didn't complain about everything and who helped down to the last deadline!

Winners Again!

Coaches, attitudes and helmets all underwent major changes this year. Under new head coach Charlie Hoyman, the Parkway football team pulled a complete turnaround this season. Voluntary conditioning started as soon as the 1981 season ended for most of the dedicated Panthers. Months of hard work, sweat, and determination paid off in the first varsity winning season any of the players had experienced.

The season was highlighted by the final game against Marion. The Panthers went into the contest with a 4-4-1 record. With a winning season on the line, the Parkway defense was put to the test on a final goal-line stand with the clock ticking down from the two minute mark. The never-say-die defense held and presented the Parkway students and fans with an unparalleled end to an unparalleled season.

Crestview defeated Mendon in the first round and Parkway downed Lincolnview next, in the first annual Panther Invitational. The Pantherettes came out roaring in the first game of the championship match against Crestview and rolled to a 15-2 victory. The second game, however, was not that easy. The knights regained their composure and fought back. The game was close, but Parkway came out on top.

Panthers Endure Grueling Schedule

All eyes are focused on Matt Rutledge as he prepares to score during the Ohio City game.

The 1982-83 Panther basketball team finished the season with an overall 8-13 record. The record, however, does not display the aggressiveness with which this team played. Eight of the thirteen losses came from teams ranked in the top twenty in the state, and five of those teams were ranked in the top ten of their respective classes.

The Panthers lost in the first game of tournament to eventual state class A champion Delphos St. John's.

This year was a rebuilding year with only two starters returning from the 81-82 team. As a result the balance of the squad consisted of juniors and sophomores. Much experience was gained by these young players, and hopefully it will pay off next year.

Varsity Goes 8-12

The 1982-83 girls' basketball program saw two changes in the head coaching positions, with Coach Tod Scarpella advancing to the varsity job while Coach Dave Williamson moved into the junior varsity vacancy. The varsity team compiled an 8-12 record overall with several losses being dished out by a slim margin.

Under Coach Williamson, the junior varsity campaign posted a 13-4 record, including an initial 7-game winning streak. With the return of strong coaching and many fine athletes, the girls teams should pose serious opposition for many years to come.

Defenders Tomi Barna, Karla Byer, and Ann Sutton show their aggressiveness against Marion.

Forward Kendra Thatcher puts the ball to the floor as she drives for a bucket.

Freshman Joy Gamble fights for the ball with lightening-quick reflexes.

Fearless Leaders

Fearless? Well maybe we exaggerated a bit with the title just to get your attention. It's really hard to write about this page in the yearbook, and it's even harder to get your attention to focus here, so why not use a word like fearless?

Since we often do not understand the entire functioning of our hierarchy and some of the new situations they impose are often difficult for us to understand, we were at a total loss for copy for this page.

The math curriculum this year was altered slightly with Mr. Meckstroth taking over geometry responsibilities from Mrs. Cress, who had her hands full with both Algebra I + II, and a Trig class that can now add 1 + 1 and get 3. The band and choir both went to contest this year, with the band receiving a superior rating at state and the choir getting an excellent rating of II.

Symphonic choir had some changes with adding dance routines to their songs. Members attending county choir were as follows: Lynne Thatcher, Lisa Brandt — sopranos; Peg Hileman, Lori Trisel, Karlene Custer — altos; Dwayne Beal, Steve Reichard, Matt Rutledge — tenors; Roger Luginbill, Tom Bigham, Todd Gaerke — bass.

Success at Home

The Home Economics department holds the key to students' success both at home and at work, both in their present lives and the future, for the HOME is the basis of everything. If your living situation is under control, it's bound to carry over into your work.

This department deals with distinctly different subject areas — foods and nutrition, clothing and textiles, housing and design, consumer education, and human development. Home economics supports academics by utilizing them in practical application to everyday life — and, stimulates creativity and improves communication skills.

Macbeth

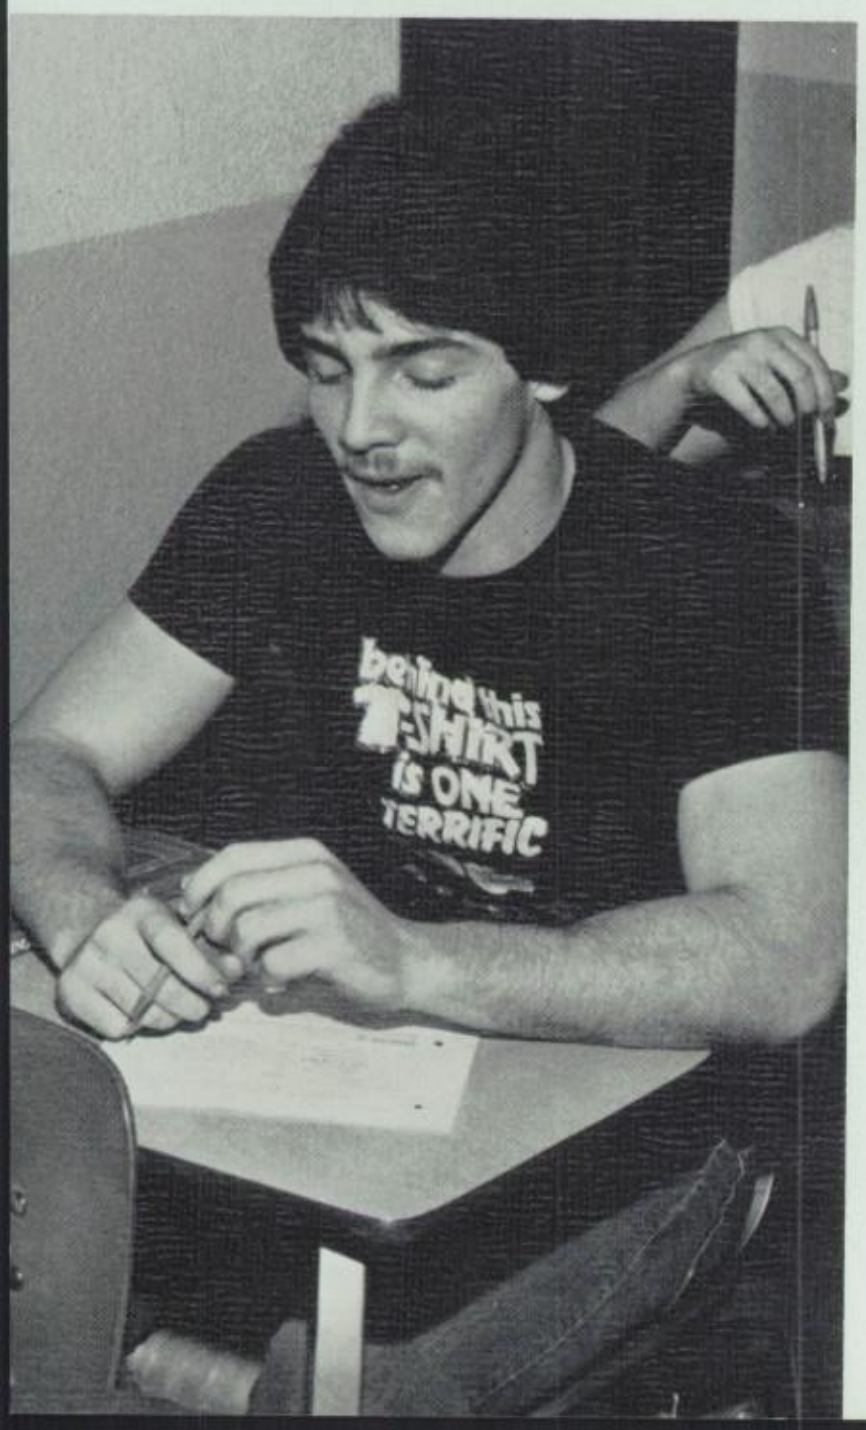
William Shakespeare

Macbeth is one of the greatest of the tragedies, swift as night and dark as spilt blood, with death and battle and witchcraft bound together in wonderful poetry to tell the story of a man and woman who destroyed themselves (Marchette Chute).

Through a simple classroom we can travel the world, travel the mind. Our English class is more than structured words and written stories. It is, hopefully, a door that opens the mind and heart.

Both Latin and German were offered this year for foreign language study. Mrs. Cress taught Latin I and II; Mrs. Masser taught German I, II, and III. Students studied not only languages, but cultural backgrounds.

Tim Schlemmer slaves over his vocabulary test with the rest of the class.



Ann Sutton begins on her Christmas project.

Mike Grunden discusses his assignment with the class.

Video Invades PHS

Instructional television has been added to the curriculum, which is a new concept to the entire school system. Three new units have been operating at full capacity since early fall and thus eliminated the use of many outdated films. A majority of classes have been given a big boost in interest due to the increased use of media in the classroom.

New tapes, filmstrips, video programs and books have been added to the media center for loan to classroom teachers and students. With the availability of this new equipment, it has facilitated two levels: teaching and learning.

The media center also houses a dark room, where students can learn basic techniques in black and white and color enlarging and printing.

Student assistants deliver audiovisual equipment to the teachers for class and in some cases aid in the operation of it. A number of articles are laminated in the AV room for students and faculty, such as posters, drivers' licenses and art work.

The research and reference area has grown with additional magazine publications and new dictionaries and encyclopedias.

Shape Up

They can't say phys. ed. is the same old thing, as this year we took on a new phys. ed. teacher, Mr. Hoyman, and new courses. Mrs. Steltzer introduced the students to tennis and weight training, while Mr. Hoyman got them familiar with gymnastics and softball.

The students, from sophomore up, enjoyed being able to choose from the many new electives. As for the freshmen, though, sorry guys and gals, it's still the same old stuff.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Giving their candid but effective techniques in teaching, Mr. Schmitz, Mr. Williamson, and Mr. Hurless managed to pull the social studies classes through another tough year.

Some unique twists will occur this fall with government, economics, sociology and psychology being offered for only one semester. This department has always played a major role in developing the students' social, political and economical values while maintaining interest to keep the students' attention. In class the students are given a chance to speak their minds and give their own opinions, views and experiences.

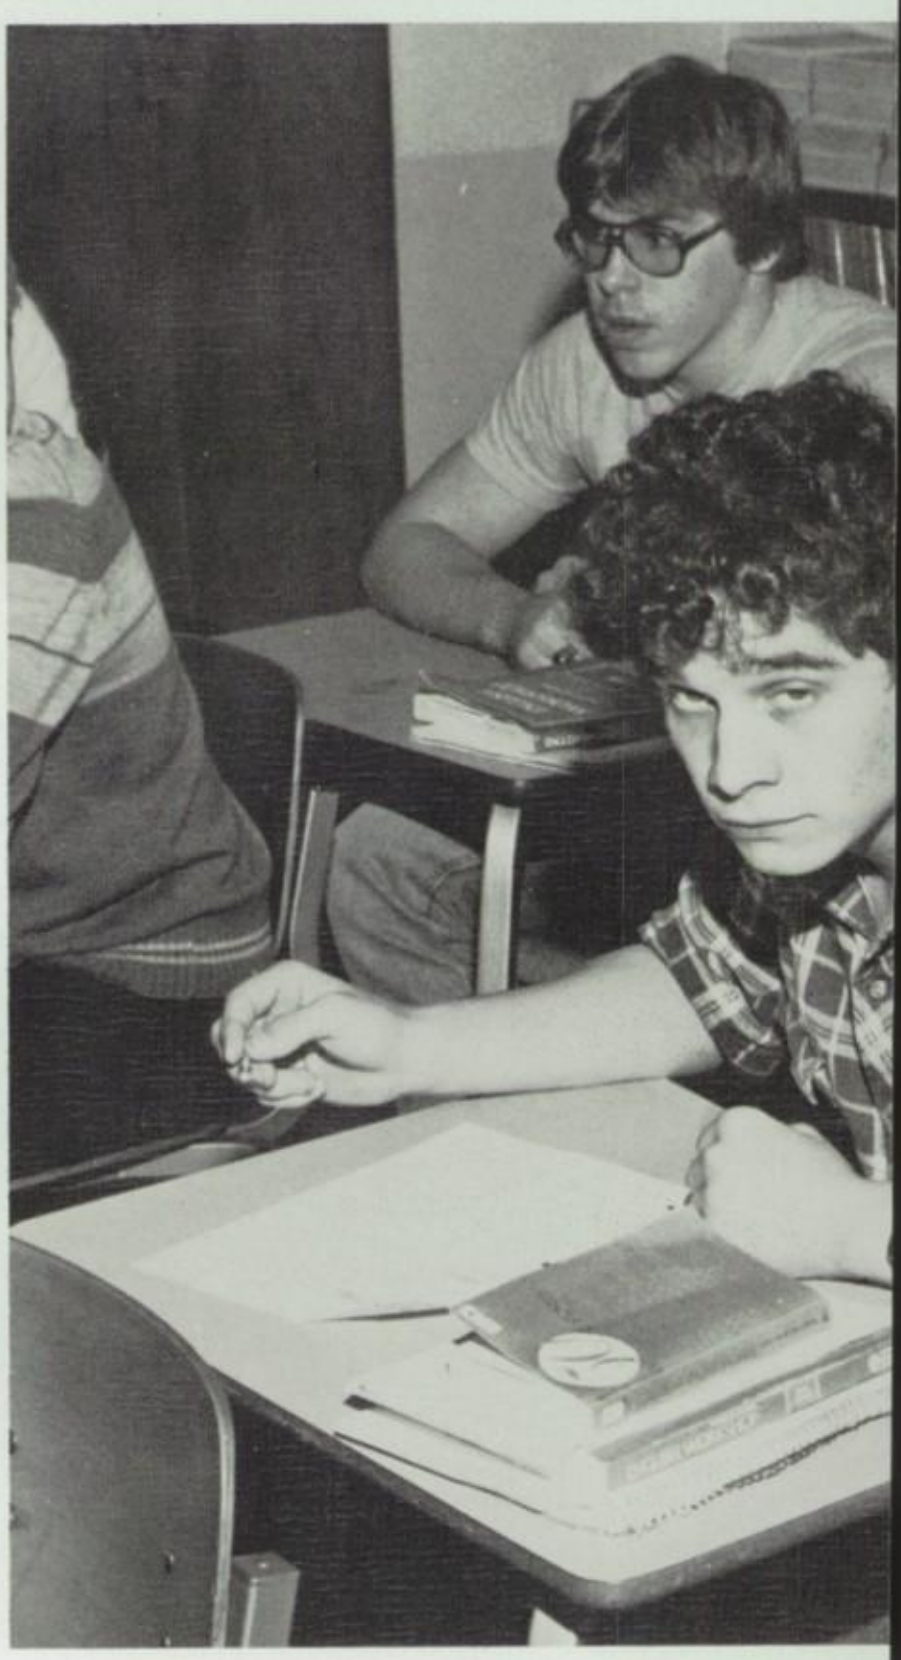
Panther Adventures

Elementary students enjoy climbing at recess.

Planting trees for field day was a highlight of the year for elementary students.

Lisa Brandt takes a break from her library duties.



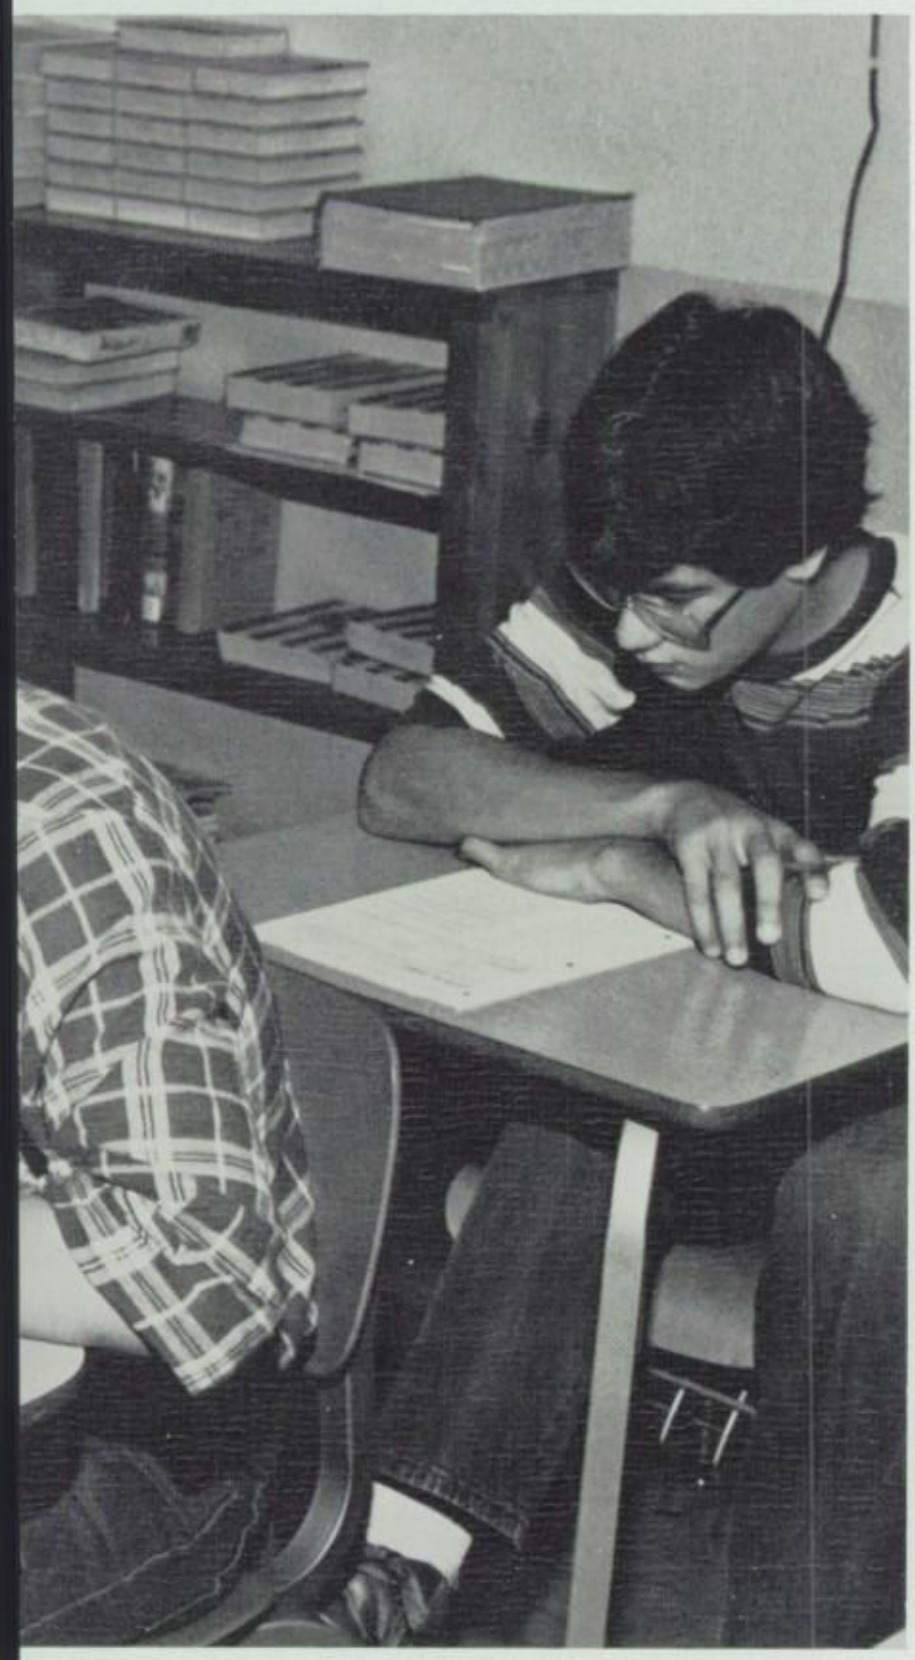
English students finish their homework before the bell rings.

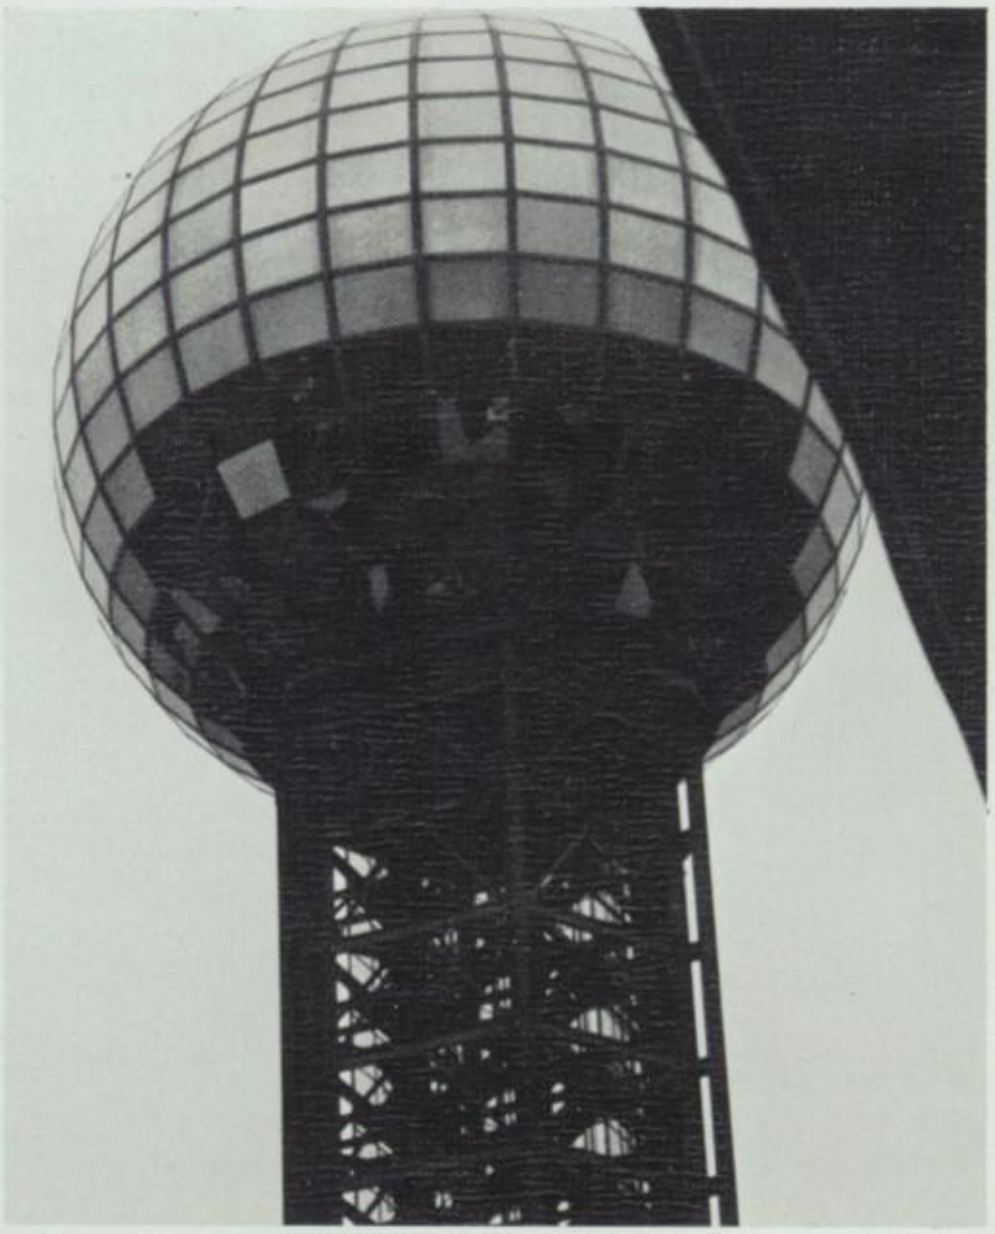
Draw to a Close

The World's Fair ferris-wheel looms in the background.

The close of another year causes a lot of confusion to students: last minute cramming for final exams, wishing you had spent more time all year studying; the last big events we shared, such as Prom, Senior Awards, and the endless preparations for graduation.

Although we feel pretty isolated in our school environment and dwell on our exciting activities around school, we must remember that the year as a whole was pretty special too, worldwide. Exciting events took place, as well, with the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tennessee, the Economic Summit Conference with world leaders, held at historic Williamsburg, Virginia, world wide floods and many other events that will affect our future.





The sun sphere restaurant was a highlight of the World's Fair.

Students walk down the stairs, heading for home after Halloween dress-up day.

Mr. Haines smiles while thinking of his summer vacation plans.

Tammy Shinnerer helps to clean up the band room.

Todd Buschur sweeps behind the display window.

FINALE

As we wind up our journalistic efforts, our hallways stand empty and quiet, our typewriters have ceased to clack, and we reflect in the hushed stillness on our publication. We have tried to capture all the flurry and activity of an entire school year. A portion of our lives has now drawn a final curtain and led us to new passageways and frontiers to follow wherever they may emerge. And so the Panthers' adventures continue as we follow closely in the tracks of the big black feline.
